

Section 9.8: Texas A&M Athletics

Texas A&M Athletics employs athletic trainers, nurses, and doctors; they are based out of the Bright Complex and in the training facility located at the Johnson Track & Field Complex. Some of the trainers are students while others are full time personnel. Trainers are at all varsity team practices and events; they are also at any NCAA event that has non-Texas A&M teams playing. Athletics has made emergency action plans for all of their facilities, which in part show which way the ambulances should enter to each facility. In the event that athletics needs an EMS response, they will advise via the business line or radio.

It should be asked which entrance they wish the ambulance to use, as some facilities have multiple entrances. Keep in mind, there is an Athletics Emergency Plan binder within dispatch that should be used in cases such as these.
